Kristi Mraz Presents Mindsets for Learning: Teaching Strategies for Joyful, Independent Growth

Based on her book, A Mindset for Learning (co-authored with Christine Hertz), Kristi will share with you the myriad of ways small changes throughout our days can reap huge rewards in the way children think and talk about themselves and challenges. Participants will walk away armed with actionable, easy-to-implement strategies to begin effecting immediate and impactful change. This work will be woven into existing classroom structures like read aloud, small group work, and reflective shares to demonstrate it is not teaching more, but changing how we teach that carries the biggest impact. Charts, tools, and other resources will be shared to help the classroom experience come alive, and to create a vision of what is possible in any school. This day is an opportunity to explore and deepen our understanding of one of the most powerful tools we can help children develop: a joyful, independent, growth-oriented mindset.

Everyone will receive a copy of Kristi's book A Mindset for Learning!

Kristine Mraz is coauthor—with Alison Porcelli and Cheryl Tyler—of the new Purposeful Play, the book that helps you make play a powerful part of your teaching. Her previous title is the bestselling A Mindset for Learning (coauthored with Christine Hertz), which provides practical and powerful strategies for cultivating optimism, flexibility, and empathy alongside traditional academic skills. She is also coauthor—with Marjorie Martinelli—of Smarter Charts and Smarter Charts for Math, Science, and Social Studies. Their popular blog chartchums keeps teachers in touch with ongoing and relevant classroom issues and ways to use charts as a support. Chartchums is also on Facebook and on Twitter @chartchums!

Kristi teaches Kindergarten in the New York City Public schools. In addition to writing and teaching, she consults in schools across the country and as far away as Taiwan. She primarily supports teachers in early literacy, play, and inquiry based learning. On the off chance she has free time, you'll find Kristi reading on a couch in Brooklyn with her dog and her husband. You can follow all of her adventures on twitter @MrazKristine or on her blog: kinderconfidential.wordpress.com.
